

Note: The given content need not to be printed.

Building Team Spirit.

Chapter 08.

Pg.no.49-55.

Learning Objectives:

- To make students understand the importance of building team spirit.
- To enhance the cognitive and critical thinking among the students.

Moral Of The Story:- The team spirit builds each other up, blends complementary strength, and builds trust. Thus with team spirit, we can accomplish more, together than independently.

Building Team Spirit.

Chapter 08.

P.no.49-55 .

NOTEBOOK WORK.

- All work is to be done on Moral Science notebook.
- Fill the index page properly.

Talk About.

Q1. Why did the villagers unite against the contractors?

Ans. The villagers united against the contractors because some local contractors had started cutting trees in large numbers.

Q2. How did the Chipko Movement help spread team spirit?

Ans. The Chipko Movement brought the people together against the cutting down of trees. Once the people were united , they were able to retain their forests. This helped people realise the importance of being united and thus created team spirit among them.

Q3. What is Special Olympics?

Ans. Special Olympics brings together people who are physically and mentally challenged.

Q4. When and where was the first International Special Olympics organised?

Ans. The first International Special Olympics was organised at Illinois ,USA in 1968.

Q5. How did the participants of the Special Olympics exhibit the true spirit of the game?

Ans. When one of the contestants suddenly tripped and fell, the other contestants stopped in their tracks and helped him to get up and finished the walk together. Thus exhibiting the true spirit of the game.

Q6. What , according to you , is the true spirit of Olympic Games?

Ans. According to me, the true spirit of the Olympic Games is to bring the people together and build team spirit among them. It also promotes mutual understanding and friendship among young people all over the world.

G.D.G.P.S.